Secretary of War Stimpson, at a news conference today, announced that army casuatieis (as of Feb. 23) totaled 121,458. Of this number, 20,592 were killed, 47,318 wounded, 26,326 are missing and 27,222 are prosoners of war.

The latest navy total of 40,824, is made up of 17,261 killed, 9,910 wounded, 9,239 missing and 4,414 prosoners of war. These figures cover the Marine Corps and Coast Guard as well as the navy proper. Of the total casualties the navy has suffered 27,383, Marines 12,986 and the Coast Guard 455.

Stimson asid that of the 47,318 army wounded, 25,291 have been returned to duty or discharged. Of the 27,222 prisoners, Stimson said, the enemy has reported that 1,673 have died of disease in prison camps. These deaths, Stimson commented, occurred mostly in Japanese-occupied areas and the total probably is larged than reported by the enemy.

RESULTS OF WEDNESDAY BLASTING OF NAZI CAP-ITAL DECLARED GOOD

By The Associated Press,
Heavy American bombers attacked Berlin in waves again today, hurling new and destructive explosives about the ruins left yesterday when 125 German fighters were destroyed in violent combat. It was the fifth daylight operation over Berlin by U. S. air forces in a week. Saturated bombings were carried out Monday and Wednesday during tremendous air battles. Fighters flew in offensive actions against the staggering German capital last Friday and on Saturday a relatively small force of American bombers dropped their first explosives.

Strong fighter escorts of the Eighth and Ninth U. S. air forces escorted the Fortresses and Liberators to the target again today.

U. S. headquarters in London said all four main buildings of the VKF ball bearing factory in Erkner, a southeast suburb of the burning capital, were bombed. Bombers destroyed 42 planes and the clouds of fighters struck down 183, making the two day total of the Berlin attacks Monday and Wednesday 301—a serious subtraction in the air forces Hitler has been hearding against the coming investion.

LOSING MORALE?

The most importat factor in this war is American morale. We can win it militarily, no doubt. As the old slogan says, "We've got the ships, we've got the men, we've got the money, too."
But that is only half the os of the hand and brain we've got the money, too." But that is only half the battle. The other half is this nation's state of mind. Or perhaps we should say the state of its soul. For warfare by brave men in a righteous cause is a spiritthing, not to be measured little to be the man of the ual as well as a material in terms of dollars and house until Dad returned. guns and ships.

GREATNESS

How great can man become? Not greater than his care
For all nearby of young and old who chance his days to share.
Though gaining excellence of skill, still failure will he be
If, eyes upon the stars, he fails a neighbor's need to see;
And vain are all the selfish heights of fortune and renown
If as a father he should fail, and child of his go down.

How great can man become? Not How great can man become? Not all a master's art

Can make a gentleman of him who will not live the part.

Not all the wealth beneath his floor can make a miser kind;

The eye that sees the farthest goal to suffering may be blind;

For only they are truly great, of champions or kings,

Who, striving to attain a dream, take time for lesser things.

How great can man become? 'Tis all a matter of his will,

For greatness true is not alone
the gift of strength or skill,
And who wins fame and fortune

Hagan called at a number of local filling stations and motorists found with unendorsed coupos were asked to endorse them on the spot. If they refused, they were handed a notice of a hearing to appear before the war price and rationing board within 10 days to show that their coupons had been endorsed.

"Any failing to appear before the board within the time allowed, will face revocation of rations," Hagan warned.

Hagan arrived at the local war price and rationing board early Tuesday and following a conference with Wilbur Wright, chairman, and other members, started on his tour of filling stations.

"So long as we get the needed carbon, we don't care where you get it or how much it costs," answered Starkie who admitted he knew "nothing about the oil situation in Texas," and was only before the board in an endeavor to secure the carbon as quickly as possible inasmuch as the present supply would be depleted in four months unless replenished.

Ralph Davis, a consulting engineer, appeared in behalf of the United Carbon Co. of Oklahona. CITIZENSHIP URGED TO GUARD AGAINST TYPHOID FEVER

AUSTIN. March 9.—(Special)— With the approach of spring and nummer, an increase in the incidence of typhoid fever may be expected, but under wartime conditions it can very easily become a major health menace, as was pointed out in a statement released by Dr. Geo. W. Cux, state health of Nearly all cases of typhoid in Texas can be traced to a supply of contaminated water or food." Dr. Cox said. 'Some cases, of course, occur by direct contract with patients or their excreta, uswhen sanitary conditions sur rounding the patient are bad "

Dr. Cox said that individual water supplies which are poorly located and wells improperly incated and wells improperly inclosed may receive surface drainage and pollution; therefore, springs and wells should be protected adequately. Sanitary pit privies or septic tanks also help protect wells and springs from pollution. There is real danger in the seepage from poorly constructed or delapidated privies. Fly screens and covered toilet seats help in warm weather to keep flies from breeding in toilets and carrying infection to food.

ing infection to food. Carriers or walking cases never Carriers or walking cases never should be food handlers. A carrier, the doctor said, is a person who harbors typhoid germs in his body, though having no symptoms of the disease. Typhoid fever is one of the many infections that can be carried by raw milk. Pasturized milk therefore should be used, since pasturization kuls disease organisms if they are present in the raw milk.

"Everyone contemplating trips where the safety of the milk and water supplies cannot be established," Dr. Cox declared, "should be immunized by the family doctor. Three doses of the vaccine are given in weekly intervals. The treatment is not dangerous, and it gives protection for two years or more."
